

WHERE TO FIND

BACK STORY

VIRGINIA HUMANITIES

BackStory the American History Podcast wrapped a 12-year run in July 2020. Episodes and teacher resources will continue to be available at www.BackStoryRadio.org for the foreseeable future.

Here's where else you can find us online:

WWW.AMERICANARCHIVE.ORG

EPISODES

Currently, AAPB has 154 BackStory episodes from 2008-2016 in its archives. All episodes of BackStory will be available on AAPB's site in late 2020.

LESSON SETS & TRANSCRIPTS

AAPB will also receive original BackStory transcripts and lesson sets generated for a select number of episodes produced with funds granted by the National Endowment for the Humanities.

WWW.NEWAMERICANHISTORY.ORG

EPISODES & BLOG

New American History, the latest digital humanities project led by BackStory host, Ed Ayers, will host episodes of BackStory as well as content from BackStory's highly trafficked blog.

LESSON SETS

NAH has tools and resources that are free and freely available to educators. NAH will use BackStory episodes to generate more lessons intended to uncover new ways to teach the past in light of the present.

QUESTIONS? EMAIL INFO@VIRGINIAHUMANITIES.ORG.